

So noir

Dramatic, decadent and oh-so-sexy, this brutal combination is a definite head turner! Contrasting liquorice with stark white, hidden storage galore and an extra long counter that doubles as a bar for entertaining makes this one a clear winner.

Design: Space One I.D.

Ample storage

Structured storage in the kitchen is specifically created in order to keep this space squeaky clean. We love the functional panels that fold down to reveal the bar counter, which sits conveniently next to the mirror finished fridge.

Island magic

A three-metre long island that is rooted down on only one end provides the dining and bar space while conveniently hosting a wash basin for quick rinses. Bar stools complete the stylish entertaining area.

Clean break

In order to keep this stunning kitchen clean and make sure cooking odours do not penetrate the rest of the open plan home, the wet kitchen is kept behind glass doors. Most of the heavy cooking and preparation is done here, allowing the decadent area to stay grease and oil free.
